Imagine that. I think we often get nervous issuing such a challenge. But people will rise to the occasion if you cast the vision and pastorally lead. No doubt. 3. Don't Get Too Busy for One on Ones - When your team is small, it's easier to meet with people one on one. But soon your team grows and you also begin to grow apart from your people.

~~5 Ways to Shift Your Worship Team Culture~~

Analyzing things such as the church's leadership, values, vision statement, structure, worship services, and the activities of members during the week can reveal a church's culture. Culture is important because it shapes everything about the way things are done in the church.

~~How to Shape Your Church's Culture — LifeWay
Leadership~~

Great leaders come and stay. Your church becomes attractive to the community and more fully accomplishes its mission. But sadly, for many churches, the culture isn't healthy. Culture is invisible but determinative. You can't see it, but it defines so much. A bad culture will consistently undermine an amazing mission, vision and strategy.

Church Culture ...~~

People follow leaders with vision." So if you want to develop a healthy organizational culture, it begins with a clear, conviction-filled vision, and preferably one that wasn't taken from somebody else's playbook. Without vision, your culture is haunted by aimlessness. 2. Values Values are one of the greatest influences in culture.

~~8 words that define your church's culture +
Stephen Blandino~~

Vision is necessary for healthy church growth, but an over-reliance on the vision can ironically keep the church from growing. If everything is about the vision, you'll wind up with a church committed to a version of some vision, not to a life of faith and following Jesus.
