Throne of the Crescent Moon is an adult fantasy set in an alternate Middle East during the golden age of the Caliphate. It richly evokes the world of Ali Baba, Sinbad, and Scheherazade. I love the way Saladin Ahmed creates his story, lovingly portraying his characters and his settings,

Throne of the Crescent Moon blends epic fantasy and sword & sorcery together and places it in a middle eastern inspired fantasy world. The setting is an absolute breath of fresh air for me. So many fantasy stories take place in a pseudo-medieval european context or just take modern day society and slap medieval dressing on it.

Throne of the Crescent Moon is a pretty good debut novel. I thought the characters were great, the plot fun, and the world a nice change from medieval Europe. The magic is the weakest part of the book, because it seems to be used too easy by the characters, with little or no cost involved. The plot is straight forward and predictable, but entertaining.
